

GIVE JAPANESE PAGEANT BEFORE LARGE AUDIENCE

St. Joseph's College High School Girls Take Part In Program.

HELD ON SETON COTTAGE CAMPUS

Charles Vincent's tuneful operetta, "The Japanese Girl," was presented by the pupils of St. Joseph's college high school, Emmitsburg, on Seton cottage campus, Monday evening at 6 o'clock. A large audience occupying chairs in the spacious open air theatre applauded the colorful and picturesque affair.

The operetta was one of the most pretentious ever attempted by St. Joseph's college high school pupils and their performance was exceptionally well received by the large audience.

Ninety-nine pupils, dressed in brilliantly colored Japanese gowns, of silks, cretonnes, Rayon chintz, gold and silver metallic ribbons, fashioned by the dexterous hands of members of the textile classes, participated in this operetta.

Natural Setting
The natural setting, Seton cottage campus, seemed the most fitting in which to portray and present the unique and unusual production.

A section of the campus was bounded by long strings of Japanese lanterns, Japanese chimes, natural flowers and the campus shrubbery. At the right of the campus stage a large pergola, almost hidden with seasonal flowers, lent a fitting touch to the elaborate and sparkling affair.

A picturesque custom prevalent in Japan prompted the composition of the operetta. When a near relative has to be absent from home for a considerable period, he often leaves behind a growing plant, a young tree, or singing bird, which is called by his name and regarded as his substitute.

The greatest care is bestowed on this object, and it is considered most unlucky to the person whom it represents should any harm befall it during his absence.

Select Canary
A yellow canary songbird was the object in Monday night's operetta. The introduction of the canary was made at a most opportune time. The songbird fitted beautifully into the scene and responded with its tuneful notes in a remarkable manner.

The first scene presented a number of Japanese girls visiting O Hanu San, a young Japanese maiden who is about to celebrate her eighteenth birthday, regarded in Japan as the "coming of age." The story was interpreted in dialogue and song.

In the second scene two American girls, who are touring Japan with their chaperon for education and pleasure, are impelled by curiosity to enter the garden and while their chaperon is sketching slip away from her.

Resent Intrusion
The Japanese girls, resenting the intrusion of a foreigner, awaken the chaperon who has fallen asleep at her sketch and pretend not to understand her explanations. O Hanu San comes to her rescue and when peace is restored invites the Americans to remain as her guests and see the interesting and quaint ceremonies.

Dozens of Japanese lanterns, umbrellas and flags were used by the players.

The singing and portraying of the Japanese garden scene won the plaudits of the audience.

A six-piece orchestra played the accompaniments.

The following girls participated in the operetta:
O Hanu San, a Japanese girl of rank, Mary Martha Gollbart.
O Kiku San, her cousin, Edythe Waters.
O Kayo San, another cousin, Anna Muller.
Chaya, tea server, Hilda Topper.
Nora and Dora Twinn, American girls, Mary Branson and Roselle Mangan.

Miss Minerva Knowall, the chaperon, Martha Julia Fletcher.
The Mikado, Margaret Coyne. His suite: Anna Rotering, Anna May Bingham, Marie Larkin, Adelaide Rider, Catherine McDermitt, Marguerite Peters, Eva Stouter, Helen Favorite, Geisha girls: Margaret Beckwith, Catherine Neylan, Marie Otero, Mary Phillips, Elizabeth Roach, Ada Shields, Rosalie Stark, Dorothy Topper.

Mrs. Davis, accompanied by Miss Esther Jones, a niece, of Washington, who is said to be the fiancée of a former student at Gettysburg college, suffered contusions of the face. Her companion also was only slightly injured. Both received treatment at the Frederick hospital after which they returned to Washington.

Senator Davis did not learn of the accident until after he had concluded his address to the graduating class. He was handed a telegram shortly after he had concluded, and he immediately left the stage and got in communication with his home.

After learning that his wife was not seriously injured, Senator Davis remained in Gettysburg for a dinner given in his honor by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college, at the latter's home on the campus.

According to reports of Mrs. Davis, accident, the senator's wife was driving a high-powered coupe, and had started to pass a milk truck when another car came out of a side road on the main highway. The name of the driver of the other machine was not learned in Frederick where every effort possible was made to throw a veil of secrecy around the accident. Both cars were badly damaged, it was stated.

About 4 o'clock, Monday afternoon, Senator Davis and his secretary left here for Washington. Today the senator gave the commencement address at Bucknell and on Wednesday he is scheduled for an address at Lebanon Valley college, Annville.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:
To the Editor of The Times:
Beverly Hills, Calif., June 9.—The government floated an eight-hundred-million-dollar loan 'other day and Al Capone took most of it himself. There is the guy that should be Secretary of the Treasury. Just turn him over the country and split the profits with him. I see by yesterday's statistics of what soldiers have done with their late bonus money a big item is second-hand cars; sorry to hear that we haven't got twenty men in America that are well enough off to support one. Yours,

Rubio Boys, Chums Of Murdered Schoolmates, Arrive In Gettysburg

Sons Of President Of Mexico Are Shocked And Express Grief When Informed By Gettysburg Times Reporter Of Fatal Shooting Of Mates By Deputy Sheriff.

Washington, June 9 (AP).—Governor Murray, of Oklahoma today informed Secretary Stimson that he ordered a complete investigation of the shooting of Emilio Rubio and Manuel Gomez at Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Simultaneously, Ambassador Clark at Mexico City advised the state department that he had transmitted a message of regret from President Hoover and an expression of Mr. Hoover's personal sympathy. Secretary Stimson asked the governor of Oklahoma to investigate the shooting of the two students.

Guillermo and Fernando Ortiz Rubio, sons of President Rubio, of Mexico, schoolmates of Emilio Rubio and Manuel Gomez, who were shot to death by Deputy Sheriff Bill Guess, at Ardmore, Oklahoma, Monday, while the two youths were enroute to Mexico City, arrived in Gettysburg early this morning enroute to New York. They plan to work in Manhattan during the summer.

The two Rubio boys, who attended Gettysburg academy last year, were informed of the shooting of their schoolmates by a reporter for The Gettysburg Times at noon. The two boys arrived in Gettysburg by motor early this morning. Shortly after 12 o'clock, a few moments after the boys had arisen, they greeted a reporter for The Times.

Learn Of Shooting
When asked if they had heard of the fate that befell their schoolmates the Rubio boys stated they had not. They were then told of the fatal shooting, the reporter for The Times giving the details as contained in Associated Press dispatches Monday. The two Rubio boys were shocked by the news and for several minutes could not speak. Then in their characteristic manner, such as they displayed when informed of the attempt upon their father's life when he was inaugurated president of Mexico, the two boys displayed marked courage, but were visibly moved.

Emilio and Manuel (speaking of the two boys who were shot to death) were the finest boys we knew. They were good students, fine companions, quiet, gentlemanly boys and we loved them. Emilio was a cousin of ours as is Salvador (the third member of the trio who was not wounded when the deputy sheriff opened fire upon the trio). Manuel was a good friend of ours. This is the statement the two boys made this afternoon to a reporter for The Times.

Emilio and Salvador Rubio and Manuel Gomez, according to the two Rubio boys who are in Gettysburg, guests at the Hotel Gettysburg, left Atchison, Kansas, about five o'clock Sunday morning prepared to drive to Mexico City. The trio left for Texas, to cross the border into Mexico.

Guillermo and Fernando Rubio left Atchison, Kansas, about 11 o'clock Sunday morning in a large sedan enroute to New York. They headed for Gettysburg where they wished to renew acquaintances with friends acquired while students at Gettysburg academy.

Harrisburg, June 9 (AP).—Charges that Charles B. Hartman, Gettysburg, has been violating his certificate as a taxi operator in Gettysburg were made today by the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Transportation company at a hearing before the public service commission.

The complaint alleged that Hartman had operated his cars in common carrier service between Harrisburg and Gettysburg, has used cars for which only private passenger licenses have been obtained and also has used his taxi in private contract service.

Hartman testified that taxi service in Gettysburg was not sufficient to be profitable and that he had been informed by representatives of the commission that transportation of passengers between Harrisburg and Gettysburg did not constitute a violation of his certificate.

ASK RESIDENTS TO GIVE GOTHAM CHILDREN HOMES

Within a week or ten days, residents of Gettysburg and Adams county will be asked to open their homes to New York fresh air children, according to an announcement by Mrs. Anna Plank, president of the Mothers' Club, which is working in conjunction with the New York Herald-Tribune fresh air organization.

Mrs. E. W. Cheney, North Washington street, chairman of the local committee, said ministers throughout the county would be asked to make announcements of the fresh air children's project from their pulpits on Sunday.

For a number of years, the Herald-Tribune fresh air fund has been sending 10,000 children, taken from the tenement districts of New York city, to the country for the summer, and much good has come to the children as a result.

Need Vacation
According to Leslie M. Conly, who has been manager of the fresh air fund for twenty years, the need for New York children to get away from the crowded tenement districts of the city this year is greater than ever. "During the winter just past, thousands upon thousands of them have had to endure bitter privations," she writes. "The fact that they have continued alive through long months of semi-starvation is something to marvel at. When the summer comes they will be a worn, pale lot."

Residents of Gettysburg and Adams county who do not care to have the children in their own homes may pay for the care of children in other homes.

The exact number of children coming to Gettysburg and Adams county depends entirely upon the response of local residents. The committee chairman and the president of the Mothers' club express the hope that the response will be large.

The Tribune fresh air fund provides transportation both ways for the children, who are allowed to remain here two weeks. Persons desiring to keep the children longer may do so by notifying the committee.

Each fresh air child is examined for communicable diseases in New York before he or she is sent to the country, and only physically fit children are allowed to go out.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the local camp announced today that they will call upon local merchants for contributions to finance the convention here. Robert E. Tipton, commander of the local camp, stated that approximately $1,500 will be needed to finance the four-day conference here June 24 to 27, inclusive.

The expenses include decorating the streets of town, guide services for the battlefield tours, music, convention halls, and miscellaneous items.

Part of the program includes a military ball, parades and other entertainment.

PARTY OF LOCAL PERSONS HURT

None Seriously Injured In Crash Near Trenton Early Sunday.

Four Gettysburgians who were in an automobile accident near Trenton, New Jersey, early Sunday morning, while en route to New York city, returned home Monday evening. None of them was injured seriously, although all were badly shaken up.

Robert "Speed" Walters, North Stratton street, part owner of the Varsity barber shop, Baltimore street, was driving the car, and with him were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shamer and son, Breckenridge street. They were going to Brooklyn for Mrs. Walters, who had been spending some time there.

Three miles north of Trenton, just as Walters' car was about to cross a bridge, a machine, traveling at high speed in the opposite direction, skidded and swung around, the rear end striking the front end of the Gettysburg man's car. The driver of the other car was J. W. McClure, of Philadelphia. Two women with him were injured and taken to a hospital.

The radiator, fender and headlight on Walters' car were damaged. The damage, amounting to about $55, was fixed by McClure, who is an automobile mechanic and automobile racing driver.

Walters and the Shamer left Gettysburg late Saturday night, intending to drive through to New York city. The accident occurred at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

After the accident the local residents went on to Brooklyn, and brought Mrs. Walters back with them Monday evening.

New York Scientist Disputes Doctor's Analysis Of Lincoln

Toronto, Ont., June 9 (AP).—The process by which Dr. A. A. Brill, New York psychiatrist, concluded that Abraham Lincoln was a dual personality who rigidly controlled his baser nature, were disputed by Dr. J. I. Moreno, of New York, at a joint session of the American psychiatrist and psychoanalytic association Friday.

Dr. Moreno challenged Dr. Brill's scientific procedure in concluding that Lincoln was a "schizoid manic" type, given to low humor of an "obsessive" character. The psychoanalytic method, Dr. Moreno maintained, has not been developed sufficiently

NEGRO PASTOR MAKES RECORD

Washington Minister Sets Mark By Preaching For 12 Hours.

Washington, June 9 (AP).—The Rev. G. Z. Brown, negro pastor of the Mount Zion Baptist church, Monday claimed the world's record for the longest sermon.

For twelve hours and ten minutes he preached Sunday. His sermon had been prepared and consisted of 88,794 words by official count.

Four lamb chops, a chicken leg and a glass of milk sustained him during the ordeal. He had just finished a three-weeks' vacation which the congregation voted to prepare him for his long-cherished ambition.

Only the chicken and milk were taken to the pulpit. The chops had been eaten beforehand.

His first subject was gambling, which took more than three hours. Companionate marriage occupied him until dark. Law breaking, prohibition, fast living and "the evil in dancing" followed in order.

"Famine" was reached about 10 p. m., when time out was taken for the chicken leg. Then "Pestilence" and "Drought," the latter a signal for a drink of milk.

He finished at midnight—"a little husky," as he put it. He described the attendance as excellent; the collection the same.

General Invitation
Ralph Fox, Hanover, chairman of the committee on arrangements, has invited patriotic and fraternal organizations of Hanover and the surrounding towns to participate in the dedication ceremonies.

Owing to the late date that the legion was informed of its designation to conduct the dedicatory services, it was impossible to issue individual invitations to the patriotic and fraternal orders to participate.

A prominent speaker will be present to deliver the address at the Smith home. Robert M. Laird will be master of ceremonies. The Rev. J. S. Tonne, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, will offer prayer and pronounce the benediction. The speaker, Mrs. Smith, the Rev. Mr. Tonne and Mr. Laird will occupy a platform which will be erected in front of the house.

Pinchot Sends Congratulations
Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, who had been invited to be present as an honored guest at the dedication of the home, and the celebration in honor of Mrs. Smith's 93rd birthday anniversary, telegraphed to D. Clyde Hostetter, Hanover, as follows:

ARENDTSTOWN IS Victor In Ball Game With Manchester

The Arendtstown town team defeated the Manchester team in a league game Saturday by a score of 8 to 7.

Manchester got off to a strong start, amassing six runs in the opening frame, forcing C. Raffensperger, Arendtstown, starting pitcher, to quit the mound at the end of the inning. G. Raffensperger, who succeeded C. Raffensperger on the mound scattered Marcher's hits during the rest of the game, allowing them only one run in the fifth. He fanned eleven men in the eight innings he pitched.

Miller hurled the entire game for Manchester. Arendtstown's attack did not start to function until the fourth inning when it duplicated the six runs made by Manchester in the first inning. Manchester knotted the count at 7-7 in the fifth but Arendtstown won the game in its half of the eighth. A. Raffensperger and Shoap featured the batting attack for Arendtstown, each connecting for two safeties.

POLICE ARREST WOMAN IN YORK CITY RAID

York.—After the city police staged a raid on the home of Susie Brown, thirty years old, colored, Saturday night at 10:20 o'clock, Susie was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct and maintaining a nuisance. All the inmates of her home were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

It was several weeks ago that a crap game was staged in the Brown home in which one negro stabbed another with a knife. The man who did the stabbing was recently committed to the penitentiary to serve a term.

Several women of questionable character were taken in the raid. The police had been receiving complaints that week-end parties had been staged at the Brown home. Crap games and drinking were said to have taken place. The officers who made the raid were Patrolmen Deckman, Sipe, Eisenhart, Swetzer and Gotwalt.

HOLD NEGRO ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Frederick.—Arthur Posey, 47, negro, accused of causing the death of William D. Ivory, also colored, in a fight at Posey's home three weeks ago, was held for action of the September grand jury on a charge of manslaughter, following a hearing before Judges Urner and Willard in circuit court Saturday morning. He was released on $500 bond.

Posey's release from responsibility for the death of Ivory was sought by his attorney, E. Austin James, who recently obtained a writ of habeas corpus for the hearing. In the opinion of the court, however, the circumstances of the case justified action by the grand jury. State's Attorney Walter E. Sinn prosecuted the case.

Among the witnesses for the defense were the wife of the dead man and the wife of the defendant. Posey was charged with striking Ivory over the head with a flatiron, inflicting injuries which resulted in the latter's death six days later.

ARREST FOUR MEN IN DEATH OF MARYLANDER

Hagerstown.—Four men are in the Washington county jail charged with being accessories after the fact in connection with the stabbing to death on Saturday, May 30, of Lester Shilling, Smithsburg, while officers are continuing the search for "Ted" Brown, sought as the alleged slayer.

The men under arrest, Maurice Bowman, 30; Lester Brown, 24; Stanley Brown, 22, and Keller "German" Burns, 30, will be given preliminary hearings early this week. State's Attorney J. Lloyd Harsman announced.

MONT ALTO TRUCK STRUCK BY TRAIN

Waynesboro.—Two people narrowly escaped injury at 12:55 p. m. Friday when a truck driven by George Stymlist, of Mont Alto, was struck by a freight train of the Cumberland Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad at the grade crossing in Mont Alto on the Fayetteville highway.

Stymlist escaped with slight cuts to the knee, while his companion, Dean Verdier, Mont Alto, was not injured.

Stymlist was driving a truck of the Manhattan Bottling company, of Mont Alto, owned by Glenn W. Brosius. He was going into Mont Alto when the freight train, which was pulling out of a siding where it had hooked onto two box cars, jammed into the truck. The engine No. 2330, hit the truck a few feet back of the cab and dragged it a distance of 50 feet north of the crossing.

EXIT

SYNOPSIS: Harriet Noel, rejects young Tony Latour's proposal because of her theatrical career. Then Tony flees with the money from an amateur play in Orchard Hill. After her father dies, Harriet goes to New York to become an actress, there meeting Tony, already on the stage. Circumstances bill them together, but Tony quarrels with Harriet upon learning of her engagement to her manager, Roy Donovan, and returns to Orchard Hill. Later Donovan deserts his wife, Harriet, and their four-year-old son, taking his stepson, Bruce. When Tony hopefully visits Cleveland to see Harriet in a play with her son, he sees that her old fire as an actress has been submerged in love for talented little Pierre. Without pleading his love, Tony Returns home.

For a long moment Pierre looked after his mother, then he turned back impulsively to Antonio as if he had come to an important decision. "I like you," he said with a smile so like his mother's that the man's heart leaped. "Do you like me?" "I love you, Pierre," Antonio answered gently.

The boy nodded as if they had reached a satisfactory understanding. Then with the air of merely stating a well known fact, he said, "You probably are aware that I have no father."

"Yes," said Antonio, "I know."

"Yes, you see, father ran away and so I had to take care of mother. I wish you were my father. I wonder why you weren't? You wouldn't run away from us, would you? I think I'll just take you for my father. I'm quite sure mother wouldn't mind, if you don't. You love mother, too, don't you? I know she loves you. So you and I must love each other a lot. We will, won't we? I shall call you Father Tony, if that arrangement would be satisfactory to you."

Of course Orchard Hill believed the worst possible things of this man and woman upon whose youth they had frowned with such suspicion. They remarked this, and guessed that and suggested the other as to the relationship of Harriet and Tony in New York. They wondered if she had really married Donovan, and, if she had, why did she still call herself Harriet Noel? They wondered if Pierre really was Donovan's child, and why did the boy call Antonio "father." In short, they delighted to infect the wounds which Harriet had received, rather than heal them with kindly charity.

It was only natural that this attitude of the villagers should drive Harriet and Antonio closer together. Each in the other found a refuge.

Troubles come home to roost. But why tomorrow does a new worry send Harriet to Tony?

Nationalist Leader To Attack Bandit Gangs In China

Nanking, June 8.—Chiang Kai-shek, generalissimo of the nationalist government, Sunday ended all rumors that he was planning to retire soon as a result of attacks against his administration from insurgents in Southern China.

In a statement to officers and men of China's nationalist revolutionary forces the general termed himself their comrade, appealed for their unreserved loyalty and announced he was leaving immediately to head the government military drive in Kiangsi and Hunan provinces against communists and bandits. This reign of lawlessness "is the worst menace now threatening China."

To Retire If Successful

Chiang said he would end the brigand and rule by terror in the Yangtze valley or "I shall die in the attempt."

Then referring to rumors he intended to resign, he added that if he was successful in crushing the lawlessness "I will retire to my birthplace near Ningpo, thereby proving to the world and nation I have no ambition to establish a dictatorship nor another dynasty, as charged by my reactionary enemies."

Chiang referred only in veiled terms to the present Canton crisis, merely warning soldiers to refrain from participating in civil wars "such as reactionary elements repeatedly seek to initiate."

"I'll find some more for you!" cried Pierre, and ran away to search in the tall grass.

Then Harriet told Antonio that she had left the stage forever, and had come back to Orchard Hill to live so that her son might grow up in the wholesome life of the country. "I want my boy to have the happiness that you and I had in our childhood, Tony," she said passionately. "I want his boyhood to be filled with the woods and fields. I want him to have memories of a beautiful happy boyhood. He must not in his manhood have only bitter memories. He must forget some things with which he has been too familiar. If I continue on the stage he will not forget. My career"—her voice faltered, then a brave smile shone through the tears which filled her eyes—"my career now, Tony, is Pierre—just Pierre. And most of all, Tony," she added softly, "I want my Pierre to have you."

As Harriet finished, her son returned with a small handful of violets. He offered the flowers to Antonio. "I picked them for you—there are lots more." And again the boy's gaze was fixed gravely upon the man's face.

Harriet rose hastily and went a little apart from them as if she, too, would gather flowers.

SEIZE CAPONE'S HUGE HOLDINGS

U. S. Seeks Properties For Settling Tax Claims Against Gangster.

Chicago, June 9 (AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone, gang chief, faces loss of his huge property holdings as well as his liberty in the government proceedings against him for evasion of income tax.

The government indicted him Friday, claiming $215,083 tax, and Sunday Robert E. Neely, acting collector of internal revenue, said civil liens will be filed against all Capone property, wherever found, to collect that amount. The lien actions will be started this week in the various revenue districts where Capone holdings may be located, Neely said.

Liens On Safe-Deposit

Besides Capone's Chicago and Miami Beach, Florida, real estate holdings, Neely said he understood there was property near Eagle River, Wisconsin, and the huge Santa Margarita ranch, including thirty-five miles of ocean-front between Los Angeles and San Diego, California. The civil liens will cover safe deposit boxes and other personal holdings, Neely said. He declined to say whether the government had a list of Capone boxes.

The indictment returned Friday charged that Capone's income between 1924 and 1928 totaled at least $1,038,654. Capone surrendered at once and was released in $50,000 bail. Government prosecutors promised an early trial in an effort to clean up the case by the end of the summer.

Ralph Capone, Al's brother, is under sentence of three years in jail and $11,500 fine for evasion of income tax. He has appealed. Terrence Druggan, notorious beer baron, who pleaded guilty to tax evasion conditional on the outcome of Ralph's appeal, was subjected to a search, seizure and sale of assets similar to that promised now for Al. A number of other gangsters, including many close to Capone, are also under sentence or actually in jail for attempting to evade the income-tax laws.

MEXICO PLANS LARGE RESERVE

Military Training Starting In Kindergarten Included In Program.

Mexico City, June 9 (AP)—The newspaper El Universal Grafico said Sunday that plans to create a Mexican military reserve of 1,500,000 trained men will be worked out by a government commission and presented to President Ortiz Rubio for his approval this month.

The newspaper says the scheme involves military training in all public schools, starting in kindergarten, where little children will be taught to play with toy soldiers and given other preparatory training.

From the first grade up actual military studies will be given. The newspaper estimates that within a few years the upper schools will be turning out thousands of trained soldiers each year.

This reserve force would be in addition to the standing army of approximately 60,000 men and the present agrarian reserve, estimated at 100,000.

Several months ago an official announcement was made of plans to install obligatory military training in the schools, but nothing further had been mentioned in this connection until Sunday's published story.

The paper did not quote any official source, but indicated it had obtained the information from reliable quarters.

An Evening Thought

It's today that I am livin'
Not a month ago,
Havin', losin', takin', givin'.
As time wills it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
Fell across my way.
It may rain again tomorrow,
But say, ain't it fine today!

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Local Items: S. A. Kaufman has been appointed postmaster at Graefenberg.

Jeremiah Culp has been appointed Treasurer of the Gettysburg School District.

Last week, Abraham Hake, butcher, of this place, lost a valuable horse by sickness.

Strawberries, green peas, cabbages, radishes and other vegetables are now brought to town in large quantities.

On Monday there was an excursion of about 100 colored persons to Gettysburg from the neighborhood of Reisterstown, Md., accompanied by a brass band.

A monument to Confederate soldiers who fell at Antietam was unveiled at Frederick, Maryland, on Thursday. The orator was James A. Buchanan, of Baltimore.

New Oxford had Decoration services, Prof. J. Louis Sowers delivering the address. The ceremonies at the graves were performed by a detachment from Major Jenkins Post of Hanover.

G. A. R. Encampment: The G. A. R. Department of Pennsylvania definitely fixed the time for going into camp at this place, on Saturday, July 23, to continue one week. The camp will be pitched on East Cemetery Hill.

John M. Tate, of this place, has received the handsome sum of $1136 for increase and arrearages of pension. He was a member of Co. B, 13th Pa. volunteers and was wounded at Monocacy Junction, the ball passing through his left lung.

Sales: On Thursday Maj. Bell, assignee of H. J. and E. G. Fahnestock, sold the following real estate: 4 acres on West Middle street to S. A. Whitney at $80 per acre; 3 acres adjoining the same at $94 per acre; 8 acres in Cumberland township to Ziegler and Holtzworth at $47.75 per acre; one half undivided interest in 5 acres woodland in Mountjoy township to R. G. McCree at $50; one-third interest in Stremmel spring property to W. D. Holtzworth for $11.

Picked Up: Decoration day had a demoralizing effect. The crowd was large, liquor flowed freely, and there was more drunkenness than we have had on similar occasion for several years. Some of our town boys caught the infection and concluded to keep it up. On the other hand the Burgess and Police decided to stop it. On Wednesday there was no less than nine arrests, the parties being committed to the lock-up or jail from 16 to 24 hours. We are glad to learn that the Burgess has given orders to arrest promptly all parties engaged in disorderly conduct, day or night. The boys had better look out.

Read The Bible With Us Daily

Then said they unto him, what shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

They said therefore unto him, What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.
John 6:23-34.

NEW YORK Day by Day

by O. O. McIntyre

New York, June 9.—New York is not experiencing the usual summer desolation. Those who, as a rule, are at this time enjoying the breeze-swept verandahs of their country places are remaining in town. And seasonal European voyagers are not voyaging. Liners shove off one third filled.

It is, of course, a part of the economic adjustment and everybody is hopeful of returning to their routine by next summer. The biggest blow has fallen on tradesmen in smaller villages and the various gasoline filling stations. Road houses are empty.

One thing is fairly certain. Rents for summer homes will be lower next year. They were mounting so rapidly that only the elect could become tenants. A dinky house on the edge of a swamp with leaky garage and a seedy back street decadence cost a fortune for the season.

Yet Long Island real estate will suffer no permanent slump, experts say. It is the logical area for a great city's natural expansion. It affords a wealth of scenery and even a primitive wilderness. There are still deer running at large on Long Island.

Once the section was overrun with Indians. The last big chief went to his happy hunting ground at Montauk Point 60 years ago. But there remain a few Indians. Most of them, however, are half caste, interbred with Negroes. From the past comes a thick stubble of unpronounceable names.

Such as Mineola, Massapequa, Montauk, Quogue, Shagwong, Shinnecock, Ceno, Place, Seawana, Seyauket, Amagansett, Patchogue, Cutchogue, Peconic and Ronkonkoma. Long Island residential sections are known, mainly as the North.

The members of the legislature were so much delighted with their trip to Gettysburg on Decoration Day that next day the House suspended the rules and unanimously passed on second reading the Senate bill appropriating $10,000 to the Gettysburg Battle-Feld Association.

We have no information as to its final disposition.

Shore and the South Shore—with North as the swankiest.

Between the two shores is the Great South Bay, the "great" is a rather comic—a shallow expanse of marshland, squirming with jellyfish. In the fall it attracts duck shooters. It is predicted that in 50 years Long Island will be as densely populated as Manhattan.

In a scene between Al Jolson and a titled Englishman, Jolson addresses him as Your Grace. But when the titled gentleman pulls a handkerchief from his cuff Jolson inquires: "May I call you just Grace?"

Herbert Bayard Swope, once a newspaperman himself, is reported to have passed up the ponies, temporarily at least. Mr. Swope is one of the few reporters to achieve a Long Island villa, a duplex in town and other doodads of the comfortably rich. His diversion has been afternoon at the track where an occasional plunger was quite lucky. But lately he was not so fortunate.

"The horses I backed," he said, "seemed to run out of sheer curiosity. They just wanted to see if the other horses had tails."

—OO—
Since coming to New York I have been overwhelmed by an O. Henry obsession to find a "man-about-town." So far he has been a figment of fiction. It is possible he existed in early Roman days, a care free dilettante who plunged daily at the Roman thermae, wagered on gladiators and gazed a life through the red of a wine glass. But he has no prototype today. At prize fights races and sundry sporting events there are men who from all appearances seem the real thing. They know everybody, squire a new and different damozel almost every evening, are well barbered and clothed with a fastidious nicety. You imagine they are familiar with wine cards, the European capitals, the intricacies of the stock market and the reigning stage stars. But upon investigation, you find that while they are likable fellows they are usually brokerage clerks, proprietors of small haberdasheries or cement salesmen. Men who are at their posts of duty all day long and firm disciples of the philosophy of Elbert Hubbard.

—OO—
So far the gentleman who comes nearest to fitting my notion of a man-about-town is the portrait painter Ben Ali Haggin. And a runner up is Jules Gleanzer.

This column needs something bright about here to perk it up. Its flopping all over the place. And about the only thing I can think of even mildly amusing is the crack of Joe Laurie, Jr., that things are so tough at his house the mice are giving themselves up to the cat.

Control Of Weeds By Using Sprays

The control of weeds by spraying with various chemicals will be discussed at a meeting on the farm of Abraham G. Keagy, Hanover route 3, Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The eradication of weeds is a real problem on many farms and it will require but a short time to attend the meeting and learn what can be done in the way of spraying or dusting to control the weeds. M. T. Hartman, county farm agent, said.

Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, a field meeting on the farm of H. E. Brown, Fairfield, will be held at which time alfalfa culture will be discussed and also weed eradication.

J. B. R. Dickey, State college, will give the discussion and any one interested in alfalfa growing or weed control should plan to attend at least one of these meetings.

SUNDOWN STORIES

GRIZZLY'S IDEAS

By Mary Graham Bonner

The Little Black Clock turned the time ahead to the summer and Peggy and John took a walk with Mother Grizzly and her cub children.

Usually, they did their marketing at night, but sometimes they went forth in the daytime.

"You were saying that something isn't fair?" John asked.

"Yes," said Mother Grizzly, "it's not fair for men to hunt us with guns. They pop off so quickly. They are so different from the weapons used in the old days by the Indians."

"We weren't so afraid of the Indians. If they hunted us it was much more of a fair battle between us, but with guns what can we do?"

"We used to be almost in control of the land, and we have heard about the fine deeds of our great-grandparent bears."

"But it is hard for us. We live in this dreadful modern world where people have guns."

Peggy and John both agreed that bears hadn't much chance against men with guns.

Now they watched the mother grizzily teach her children how to pick the berries that were not poisonous, and all the other grizzly lessons.

And then the Clock turned the time ahead to the fall, and they saw the bears eating enough to last them through their winter.

It was very chilly when they said good-bye. Mother Grizzly had gone inside the den with her cubs who were now quite grown-up, but when Peggy called in a last good-night only a few sleepy grunts were her answers.

The bears were going to sleep for weeks! How different were the ways of different creatures Peggy thought as the Clock took them home.

Daughter Is Healthy Now

"My daughter Donnie is just coming into womanhood. A friend of mine told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped her daughter. Donnie has taken only two bottles and you would hardly know she is the same child. She used to be so cross with the other children but now she feels fine. Since taking it she has not missed a single day from high school."—Mrs. Chloe E. Wilson, R. No. 1, Box 32, Duanwright, Oklahoma.

Bandits Hold Up Stage Along Road

Shamrock, Texas, June 9 (AP)—Modern stage coach robbers halted a Pickwick-Greyhound west-bound bus near here early Sunday, and robbed eighteen passengers of $668 and jewelry valued at $273.

Two men boarded the bus at Erick, Oklahoma, and halted the machine by drawing revolvers and compelling W. E. Trammell, the driver, to halt. Five other men, in two automobiles, then drew alongside. Several of the passengers saved valuables by concealing them in their clothing or inside the bus.

After the robbery the bandits disabled the motor of the coach and departed in their automobiles. Later a suspect was arrested at Erick.

The victims included Miss Marie Swaniger and Miss Francis M. Taylor, both of Clarksville, Pennsylvania.

EARTH SHOCKS FELT IN EUROPE

Many Persons Frightened By Early Morning Earth-quake.

London, June 9 (AP)—Severe earth tremors in England, France, Norway and Belgium early Sunday greatly alarmed inhabitants, but did little material damage and caused no loss of life.

At many points persons jumped from their beds and rushed to the streets half-clad. They remained outside some time, talking excitedly about the disturbance.

The tremors were felt throughout England, and in parts of Scotland, Wales, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Wight. Northern France and Southern Norway were affected, but Ireland escaped.

Shock Severe

J. J. Shaw, seismologist at the West Bromwich observatory, said the shock, which started there at 1:26 a. m., was one of the severest ever recorded in England. He reported the tremors continued strong for five to seven minutes and then gradually diminished. They were particularly strong in the midlands.

The phenomenon was accompanied in some regions by rumbling noises and in other places as preceded by a severe thunderstorm. An oppressive calm was noted elsewhere.

The only known casualty in the British Isle is believed to have been a canary, which received a broken wing when its cage was flung to the ground.

See Solution In Organization Of New Church Clubs

Rome, June 9 (AP)—A possible solution of the grave conflict between the Catholic church and the Italian state was seen in some quarters here Sunday in the creation of new Catholic clubs, a method which is now being tried in several dioceses of Northern Italy.

The location of these dioceses was temporarily withheld by the Vatican Sunday, but it was learned that the new organizations are to be called "congregations" and that they are to be more directly connected with the church than were the dissolved Catholic clubs.

GUINAN "GANG" GETS THE GATE

Though she fought stubbornly, Texas Guinan, New York night club hostess, was unable to get permission to take her band of entertainers to Paris. Here she is (dressed in white) with some of her "gang" at Havre before they hit the home trail.

Coney Island Attracts Society As Depression Hits Noise

New York, June 9 (AP)—Coney Island, playground of the people, meeting place of the masses, in the midst of a business depression has turned a business eye to the socially elect.

With classes in esthetic dancing and ballrooms in which cover charges are not even mentioned, in the midst of its glittering setting, the "Island" is attempting—and fairly well succeeding—to crash "society."

Near beer and pink lemonade—enough to float the Atlantic fleet—still pass daily over the bars, lunch stands and cafe tables, but much of it is being sold to men, women and children who know their Newport, Atlantic City and the mountains. Coney's new customers are learning to find rest and relaxation in democratic style.

Lays It On Depression

"It's that way all around the place," said Rex D. Billings, general manager of one of the largest of Coney's parks. "And what a difference the depression has made in the kind of crowds we are getting!"

Billings, former officer and a director of the national amusement park association, is an experienced showman who understands sight-seer psychology and believes big-playlands an important factor in dispelling economic as well as mental depressions.

His theory is "the better the show, the better the type of audiences." It is working out in dollars at the gates, he declared, and educating Americans, as shown in greater tourist business, to forget their troubles.

Crowds Behaving Better

"Coney's crowds are behaving better, too," he asserted; "since the depression reforms struck the 'Island' their deportment has improved steadily."

Headline vaudeville acts are taking the place of side shows. The closing for the summer of scores of Broadway shows, a theatrical manager at Coney said, has given the amusement parks an unusual number of recognized artists, not only for stage performances, but as ticket-takers, barkers, hula dancers and odd-jobs.

Pirate Outfielder Makes Double Play Unassisted

Chicago (AP)—Outfielders don't often make a double play unassisted, but Adam Comorosky has one to his credit.

It happened in a Cubs-Pirate game here. There was one out and Kiki Cuyler of the Cubs was on second. Comorosky, in left field for the Pirates, came in fast to catch a low line fly hit by Woody English.

Cuyler apparently thought it was a sure hit or that there were two out, so he started for home. Comorosky carried the ball in, touched second, and made the double killing.

Javelin Tossers Spear Sport Laurels

Iowa City, Ia. (AP)—Javelin-throwers gained a big share of the honors in major sports of the University of Iowa this spring.

L. D. Weldon, star javelineer, was elected honorary track captain at the close of the season, while Elmo Nelson, another expert with the steel-tipped spear, was chosen to captain the 1932 baseball team. He is a star catcher on the nine, batting .358, and a good football half-back.

Nelson took a few hours off from baseball to produce a javelin throw good enough to win fifth place in the Big Ten title meet, competing only in the trials on Friday because he had a baseball engagement Saturday.
